Sustained Investigation

Written Evidence

Humans and nature have always been closely tied together. Nature tends to change the way humankind thinks and acts. In my investigation, I aimed to explore the integration and transformation of humankind with nature.

In images 1-4, I wanted to capture the indirect integration of humans in nature. These pictures show how without the direct presence of humans we are still tied together. These pictures show the beauty of nature combined with the man made structures. In images 5-9, I tried to have the humans look tiny compared to the environment. The humans and the environment blend together. Nothing looks out of place, showing the unification of earth and humankind. In images 10-12, I wanted to show the transformation that nature has on people. I aimed to show that feeling of gratitude and wholeness after being out in nature. That feeling of being one with nature. In images 13-15, I tried to show both feelings of transformation and integration with nature. In these images the subject is blended into nature. The subject becomes the surrounding nature.
